

June 2017

Dear Students, Parents, and Community Members:

This summer with the support of Scituate Prevention Partnership we are conducting a voluntary whole school read. Together we will explore the themes and tenets of teen leadership through Ed Gerety's book, Combinations: Opening the Door to Student Leadership. We are using this book as a springboard to discuss teen leadership throughout the 2017/18 school year.

SPP is purchasing and placing several copies for availability at the local Scituate libraries. The text is also available for purchase on Amazon.

Students enrolled in honors classes grades nine through twelve have a separate mandatory reading assignment. Honors level students can access that information on our school website.

Please contact me at ruth.trainor@scituateschoolsri.net if you have any questions.

Have a wonderful summer!

Regards,
